Mr. Robert M. Gates, Deputy Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Mr. Gates:

Thank you for your kind letter of recent date, wherein you commended the members of this Department, and particularly Chief of Operations George Maher, Inspector Richard Littell, Commanding Officer of the Sixth Precinct, Inspector George White of the Office of Chief of Detectives and Detective Sergeant Preston Pavlo, Commanding Officer of the Special Investigations Squad, for their respective efforts following the death of former Central Intelligence Agency Director William J. Casey.

In addition to noting their permanent Force Records, I have provided each of the officers with a copy of your letter so that they may be personally aware of your appreciation.

Mr. Gates, it is gratifying to know that this Department, through the efforts of the aforementioned members, was able to be of service both in the past and at the funeral and it is on their behalf that I thank you for your thoughtfulness in writing.

Sincerely,

Samuel J. Rozzi
Commissioner of Police

Commissioner Samuel Rozzi
Nassau County Police Department
1490 Franklin Avenue
Mineola, New York 11501

Dear Commissioner Rozzi:

Please allow me to take this opportunity on behalf of the Central Intelligence Agency to express my appreciation for the outstanding support provided by the Nassau County Police Department during the funeral of William J. Casey.

The monumental job of providing security for the host of "very important people" (most especially the President and Vice President) was accomplished with excellence and extraordinary professionalism. As well, the handling of the numerous motorcades was no small feat and all was accomplished without a problem.

I would like to commend especially your Chief of Operations George Maher, the Commanding Officer of the Sixth Precinct Inspector Richard Littel and Inspector G. Donald White from the Office of the Chief of Detectives. The professionalism with which all the Nassau County Police Officers carried out their duties was exemplary.

Also I want to single out the Special Investigations Squad headed by Det. Sgt. Preston Paluo. In addition to assisting our security in the funeral arrangements for Mr. Casey in May, over the past six years this squad has assisted us when former Director Casey was in New York. This was accomplished on such a routine basis and with such professionalism one almost forgets to say thank you. A special thank you to all concerned.

Sincerely,

Robert M. Gates
Deputy Director of Central Intelligence

1. FYI.

2. We have already taken steps to market these analysts to DI office directors. Some of the analysts have begun marketing themselves. This memo merely makes our efforts formal.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Intelligence

FROM: H. F. Hutchinson, Jr.
Vice Chairman, National Intelligence Council

SUBJECT: Candidates for DI Assignments

Sisk —

1. We have discussed the situation of a small number of analysts who are assigned to the National Intelligence Council and are members of the E Career Service. This situation occurred partially by accident and partially by misguided design. Nonetheless, the situation hinders the full development of the potential of the individuals and limits their contributions to the Agency.

2. My proposal is that you and your office directors consider accepting these people into an appropriate Directorate of Intelligence career service. We would certainly increase our flexibility in training and developing these people if they belonged to a directorate career service. The increased flexibility for management in shifting skills and experience to meet our intelligence production needs also is desirable.

3. I have informed all the people here that our long-range goal is to eliminate the Analytic Group, if possible, and our short-range goal is to constrain it to half a dozen people. We find that the Intelligence Community managers are in agreement with the DDCI that we should draw upon the community at large for our drafters, matching specific skills and experience to the estimates, rather than try to maintain a separate organization of drafters. Also, we intend to reduce the number of assistant NIOs over the next year.

4. Please encourage your office directors to examine personnel files and talk with the E Career Service people on the attached list. We can be flexible where there are possible matches. For example, we could arrange a rotational assignment for an individual in case the office director would like to see how the person works out in that setting; we can transfer the person to the office career service and let the individual complete the current NIC tour before transferring to a new job there; also, we could transfer the person to the new career service and the job and carry them against one of our positions for a time. Let us consider each of these people as individuals, valuable people for this Agency, and tailor the arrangements to the individual cases.

5. Please call if I can be of assistance to you or your office directors.
